

Your go-to counsel for what's next.

At Teck Law, we get it. The tension between moving quickly and staying in bounds is real. Our goal is to be your partner, offering clear, practical guidance shaped by real-world priorities and a deep understanding of how companies grow. With nearly two decades of expertise earned inside fast-moving businesses and top-tier firms, we help you navigate what's next with confidence. Whether you're launching, scaling, or building steady momentum, we're here to move forward with you.

TECHNOLOGY TRANSACTIONS

Whether you're building it or buying it, technology powers your business. We work closely with CTOs, technology teams and product leaders as trusted advisors, helping structure and negotiate complex deals across product development, XaaS models, licensing, software, infrastructure, information security, privacy, and beyond. Our role is to clear a path for progress, while keeping your foundations strong.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Teck Law helps companies approach AI with clarity and intention. We advise on AI products and AI-integrated offerings, negotiate AI licenses, assess IP and data exposure, draft usage policies, and interpret the emerging web of regulations around responsible AI. We bring legal fluency and informed perspective to one of the fastest-evolving frontiers in business.

COMMERCIAL CONTRACTS

The right contract doesn't just reduce risk, it accelerates opportunity. From vendor and services agreements to licensing, co-branding, distribution, and strategic partnerships, we bring a thoughtful, business-minded approach grounded in practical experience. We've supported startups and global brands alike, helping ensure every deal aligns with your goals and strengthens your position.

DATA LICENSING & STRATEGY

Your data holds immense potential, but only when its value is carefully structured and protected. We help companies design smart licensing strategies, negotiate data-sharing agreements, and define commercialization and usage rights. Our team works alongside data and analytics leaders to align legal terms with business objectives, while navigating privacy and security requirements with precision.

PRODUCT COUNSELING

Product launches involve more legal complexity than most teams expect. We collaborate with cross-functional teams to support every stage of a product's journey – from early concept, iteration, launch and growth. That includes regulatory reviews, privacy and IP strategy, and crafting Terms of Use and other public-facing policies. The result: legally sound products, built to scale.
